

Cactus Wren

The cactus wren is the official state bird of Arizona. It is brown with black and white spots. Male cactus wrens usually build several nests in cactus plants during the breeding season. However, the females only nest in one. The other nests are fake to confuse predators.

